

Jerilyn Dunteman
St. Charles

Jerilyn Dunteman, 29, of St. Charles died Wednesday, Nov. 30, in the home of her parents in Sugar Grove following a long struggle with cancer. She was born Oct. 31, 1959, in Elgin, the daughter of Edwin and Maryann Coppock Dunteman. The family made its home in the Kaneville-Sugar Grove areas. Following her 1977 graduation from Kaneland High School, she continued her education at Southern Illinois University, Carbondale. She had been employed at Pheasant Run Lodge, St. Charles, until 1986, when her illness began, and she was a member of Sugar Grove United Methodist Church. Surviving are her parents; two sisters, Kris Dunteman of Rural Sugar Grove and Kathy (James) Hoscheid of Cherry, Ill; a brother, James (Katy) Dunteman of rural Aurora; her maternal grandmother, Laura Coppock of Bloomingdale; and a nephew, Aaron Hoscheid of Cherry. She was preceded in death by her paternal grandparents, Edwin and Ella Dunteman Sr. and her maternal grandfather, John Coppock. Memorial services will be 2 pm Saturday at Sugar Grove United Methodist Church, the Rev. John. Smith officiating. Private committal services are planned following cremation. Visitation will be 3-9 today in Conley Funeral Home, Elburn.
